

Programme

EU Area of Criminal Justice PhD Seminar

Organised by The Criminal Justice Centre (CJC), School of Law, Queen Mary University of London and the European Criminal Law Academic Network (ECLAN)

Thursday 8 May 2014

8.30 Registration and Refreshments, Arts Foyer, Arts 2, Queen Mary University of London

9.00 Welcome,

Professor Valsamis Mitsilegas, Head of the Department of Law, School of Law, Director of the Criminal Justice Centre (CJC), Queen Mary University of London and Co-Coordinator of ECLAN

9.05 General Principles of EU Criminal Law

Chair: Professor Sabine Gless, Professor of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure, University of Basel and member of the ECLAN Management Committee

Can traditional criminal law principles work for EU criminal law? An analysis on criminalisation and harmonisation
Irene Wieczorek, Vrije Universiteit Brussel – Université Libre de Bruxelles

The principle of proportionality in the Area of Freedom Security and Justice, Ermioni Xanthopoulou,
King's College London

Investigating the nulla poena sine culpa principle in the European dimension, Enrico Cottu, University of Ferrara

EU criminal obligations facing the principle of legality in a Comparative Perspective, Giulia Cavallone,
University of Rome (La Sapienza) and University of Paris II (Panthéon-Assas)

11.05 Tea and Coffee

11.30 Problematising Procedural Criminal Law (1)

Chair: Professor Anne Weyembergh, Professor of Criminal Law, Université Libre de Bruxelles and Co-Coordinator of ECLAN

Demystifying the trust problem in EU criminal law: enhancing mutual trust by harmonising criminal procedural rights?
Auke Willems, Vrije Universiteit Brussel

Investigative powers of the defence: A fair trial in the Area of Freedom, Security and Justice? Marloes van Wijk,
University of Luxembourg

Fair trial rights of corporations in criminal proceedings, Stijn Lamberigts, University of Luxembourg

13.00 Lunch

14.00 Problematising Procedural Criminal Law (2)

Chair: Professor Katalin Ligeti, Professor of International and European Criminal Law, University of Luxembourg and Co-Coordinator of ECLAN

To continue or not: Who shall be in control of the European Public Prosecutor's discontinuance decisions?
Johanna Goehler, University of Muenster

Reconciling judicialisation of European criminal justice area and individual fundamental rights protection: a necessary evolution of legal remedies, Ségolène Devillet, University of Luxembourg

Transnational investigations and evidence law: in search for an EU legal framework? The case of special investigation techniques, Ines Armada, Vrije Universiteit Brussels-Université Libre de Bruxelles

15.30 Attendees are invited to move to the Law Foyer for a drinks reception beginning at 16.00

16.00 Meeting of the Management Committee (invitation only)

Friday 9 May 2014

9.15 Refreshments

9.30 The Fight Against Crime

Chair: Professor Jørn Vestergaard, Professor of Criminal Law, University of Copenhagen and member of the ECLAN Management Committee

Cybercrime in the European Union: competence, perspectives and solutions. A comparative study between the European and the American systems, Joana Whyte, Minho University

Towards the improvement of the European legal framework on supporting victims of human trafficking in the aftermath of the trafficking situation - Is there evidence that there is a dichotomy between the law and practice: a case study of Poland and the United Kingdom, Julia Muraszkiewicz, Vrije Universiteit Brussel

Intelligence and information sharing related to serious transnational crime: a step towards an ASEAN security legal framework and its impact on the relations with the European Union, Céline Cocq, Université Libre de Bruxelles

Criminal conduct and dis-integration under the EU citizenship: this marriage is not to be performed, Leandro Mancano, Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna, Pisa

11.30 Tea and Coffee

11.45 Concluding Remarks

Professor Rosaria Sicurella, Professor of Criminal Law, University of Catania

Professor Pedro Caeiro, Professor of Criminal Law and Criminal Procedure, University of Coimbra and member of the ECLAN Management Committee